

Enough is enough! Please, as the Federal Communications Commission, stop media from cramming George Bush down American throats. You are the group that should be most sensitive to these scenarios straight out of *Animal Farm*!

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a blatant example.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy. Instead of something produced at "News Central" far away, it's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter.

The people of the U.S. own the airwaves, and we count on you, the FCC, to protect them and make them work in our interest, not to brainwash us with administration rhetoric.

Please stop Sinclair from playing King of the Hill with our broadcasting systems.
